

H.O.M.E NFT COLLECTIONS OWNER'S MANUAL

As a holder and collector of NFTs of the H.O.M.E. NFT Collections, you are in possession of something much more special than just a simple piece of digital art ...

You hold in your possession a powerful vortex containing the Highest Energies of Spirit/Source channeled into the visual representation of your NFT, combining the properties of high vibrations with the visuals of color, figure, personality, movement and text.

Every NFT you hold is a conduit giving you as the owner a pure path to connect with the truest source of existence and an easy way of allowing all that you consider to be good into your life.

You can look at your NFT's of the H.O.M.E. collections as messengers of Light, trainers of energy and vibration, spiritual guides and activators of your desired realities in your experience.

Being in the format of NFT's they also have an inherent economical value, giving you also the ability to sell, transfer, or gift if you so desire.

Here are some ways for you to understand, benefit from and extract the best energy out of your NFT's:

- Spend quality time with them! - The fact that you own those specific NFT's is not a coincidence, you attract them specifically into your life at this point of journey because they WILL SERVE YOU. So, spend time looking at them, reading their message, savoring the details, appreciating them, their beauty, their colors, their textures, their details and their message.
- Every NFT is a conduit to Infinity! - Your NFT contains an infinity message, the more you look, the more you can receive and perceive from them. Spend some time regularly in their presence, looking at them, feeling them and know that in your open act of appreciating them, you are letting in into your vibrational field their message and guidance.

As they are messengers of infinity, there is no end to what they can give to you, so every time you spend with them, they will give a new and improved message and guidance.

- Their message and activation comes first in the form of EMOTION! More than physical, your NFT's are activators of Energy, so the first indication of you receiving that new and improved activation is an Improved Feeling within you.

As you spend quality time with your NFT's and you deliberately focus on them, you will feel better 100% of the time, start to notice feelings of peace, ease, joy, excitement, interest, love, abundance, etc ... and a general knowing that 'All is Well' building, activating and stabilizing with you.

- Receive them in your Imagination! As the positive emotions coming from their activation start to arise within you, you will start to receive ideas, thoughts, visions, inspiration, and all kinds of downloads in your imagination. Pay attention to them, and you can perhaps have a notebook by your side to take notes of all the good things you are receiving.
- Their energy will show up in your Reality! First comes emotion, downloads into your imagination and then comes evidence in your manifestations!
The quality time you spend with your NFTs will activate their vibration/energy in you, and you will carry it wherever you go, therefore, you will be attracting and manifesting that same energy as time goes by.
- Use different NFT's for different intentions ... all of them are GOOD! Whether you are using the more general collections such as the "Arriving Paradise" or the more specific ones such as the "Earth Angels", all of them will activate GOOD within you and in your life! You can use more specific NFT's (ex: Earth Angel of Beauty) for more specific activations, or use something general for a general sense of well-being, or combine them both starting with something more general and then giving your attention to something more specific as you feel the good energy building within you.

Regarding the aspects of selling, buying, giving, transferring your NFT's, they can all be easily done within the functions of your NFT wallet.

Two simple things to keep in mind as you consider the above:

- Their dollar/euro price will vary according to the market conditions at any point in time;
- The creators of the collection cannot in any way interfere, provide assistance, or do anything about any transaction you do with your NFT's

Enjoy your journey as a H.O.M.E. NFT owner.
